						There are many memorable things that happened to me during college days. On the top of my head is getting a best friend and the best advisor one can ever imagine. My life was not so good before college but being with her during the college time brought hell lot of changes in me. I would say I was a different man when I left my college. The way she changed my thinking towards life, towards people,towards studies I can't thank her enough. It's not wrong to say that Viren that I am today is because I met this idiot during my college
